Re: First week complete - WELL DONE ALL

Dear parents,

We have now completed our first week in school and we should be very proud of our achievements. Those in school have settled back in very quickly and the children completing work at home are now regularly accessing online resources!

It was a little disappointing to hear that the Education Secretary suggesting that parents contact Ofsted if they are not happy with Online learning. At Ankermoor, we are proud of what we have set up. Staff have developed online learning; trained children; created learning packs and initiated new communication systems... all in such a short space of time. If you are concerned about any aspects, we would certainly like to hear them first so we can resolve any problems first hand. We won't get it right all of the time but we will always try our absolute best to serve our children and our community.

To ensure we move forward together, please consider the following:

Those in school:

- Tuck for will start from Monday. A text has been sent out about this.
- If children are accessing learning both in school and at home, please ensure they bring their learning packs with them.

Those at home:

- Please continue to access the Online learning via Teams or Tapestry. If support is needed, please message: inbox@ankermoor.org
- Staff will be making calls home to check in with pupils next week. If you have any worries or concerns, please let us know.

We realise that everybody is doing their very best considering the circumstances but remember, this period of lockdown will only cause a loss of learning for your child so the more you can access the online learning, the more it will benefit them. However, we do understand the stress and difficulty of working from home so please do as much as you can and share this with us.

We are always here if you need us,

Take care,

Simon Russell
